

Methodology of Team Formation

- Strength of the team = 7 Players from 4 categories
- The pool of players is 70
- They are divided into 4 categories based on their skill, consistency & temperament
 - A (-115 to -175) x 10 Players
 - B (-50 to -110) x 20 Players
 - C (-25 to -45) x 20 Players
 - D (-20 to -10) x 20 Players
- Categories B, C & D will be further sub-divided in 2 categories of B1 & B2, respectively
- This is done to ensure that each team has a balance of players & the better players in each category are evenly allocated in each team
- The Team quorum of each team will be:
 - A x 1 Player
 - B1 x 1 Player & B2 x 1 Player
 - C1 x 1 Player & C2 x 1 Player
 - D1 x 1 Player & D2 x 1 Player
 - Total 7 Players

Methodology of Team Formation

- Every Team Owners' name shall be written on a chit & put in a pot
- The names picked from 1 to 10 will decide the hierarchy of the owners' turn of picking their colour.
- Same methodology will be used for each category of players
- Upon colour choosing & team formation, we will repeat this process to give the teams a final number which will decide their draw & venues of play

Right of Rejection (RR):

- Each Team Owner has maximum 3 rights of rejection
- Players from category A cannot be rejected
- RR can be used just once in the remaining three categories
- RR can be used just once in category B, C & D & cannot be carried forwarded if unused
- The cost of each RR is Rs. 2000/- & is optional

Modus Operandi of RR:

- The Owner cannot reveal the player he wishes to reject
- He can hold on to this player & by exercising his RR, he can pick another player from the pot
- He has the option of choosing between these 2 picks & putting back the other in the pot
- If any players name is revealed during this process, then he will be liable to pay the RR charges + an additional Rs. 2000/- as fine & will have to go with his first pick in that said category
- Owners are requested & directed to not reveal the names of player/s at any point in time during or after this tournament

Please Note:

- A team can have multiple owners
- 2 players playing in the BPL can also be owners of a team; but that doesn't imply that both are in their team by default. Only one can be a part of that team & the other will have to be available for the lucky draw. He can however become a member of that said team if the draw is in his favour.
- Every Owner must declare their Ownership Structure (singular owner or co-Owner/s)
